

Discover raku 楽

Raku is a particular way of firing ceramic pieces. They are taken out of the oven at 1000 degrees and thrown into sawdust. Thermal shock causes cracks in the enamel, and smoke blackens these cracks. The final colors are often unpredictable.

- You are staying in Liddes
- You miss a little creativity
- You want to meet some «local» people
- Come and discover RAKU, the art of the fire ...

Spend two days in my studio :

- First day to produce some ceramic pieces (modeling or on the wheel)
- Second day to glaze the pieces and fire them the «raku» way
